This tool is designed to assist with the implementation of the Community School Strategy using Implementation Science and the Four Pillars framework for Community Schools (CS). The Implementation Stages Planning Tool developed by the National Implementation Research Network (NIRN) is used as a road map for implementation activities. The Four Pillars is used as the framework for the components of a Community School strategy.

Implementation Science refers to the methods used to enhance the adoption, implementation, and sustainability of a program or practice. Implementation occurs in four stages which are outlined below and used as the implementation method for Community Schools:

Exploration: assesses assets and needs, fit of the program or practice, and feasibility of implementation.

Installation: builds the infrastructure necessary to implement the program or practice, building practitioner and organizational capacity.

Initial Implementation: Initial efforts to use the program or practice, and data for continuous improvement.

Full Implementation: Stakeholders use the program or practice successfully, and population-level outcomes are achieved.
